Sean Boushie is likely responsible for Bill Windsor being suspended by Facebook.

You can normally see www.facebook.com/lawlessamerica for the latest news,, but my Facebook page has disappeared, and I am asked to identify the photos of Friends who I have never seen. Does anyone know how to get this fixed?

I just received this message from Facebook: "We removed the following content you posted or were the admin of because it violates Facebook's Statement of Rights and Responsibilities:

I received a small number of threats during the night — mainly from Sean Boushie in Montana. I have contacted the police once before about this person. I will attempt to file formal criminal charges against him not later than tomorrow.
